It's your World, Your Community

Sandy Pride – A day dedicated to citywide clean-up

By Aimee Cook O'Brien

It's that time of year again when the residents of Sandy come together to clean up, brighten up and shape up their city. Sandy Pride has been an ongoing event in the community for more than 20 years and will take place on May 17. Volunteers around the city work together planting trees and flowers, cleaning up open spaces and even painting or providing simple repairs to homes in need.

Sandy Pride, sponsored by the Sandy Exchange Club and Sandy City, was the brainchild of Vaughn North, president of the Exchange Club in 1984. North wanted a way to unite the community and he and other members of the club felt a community service project was the way to do that. The board came up with three objectives for the project: "educate residents and businessmen on Sandy's history, beautify the community in a way that would develop pride, and bring the community together in an event of celebration and good will."

The first Sandy Pride day was launched on Aug. 24, 1985 and more than 10,000 people joined in the effort to make the city a better place to live.

"I was so impressed by the enthusiasm and community involvement that I joined the club," Mike Coulam, director of Sandy Community Development said in a press release. "I've seen what a well-organized group can do to make our city a better place to live."

According to a 2006 issue of Money Magazine (2006), Sandy City is nationally ranked as one of the top 25 cities in the United States to live.

Many opportunities exist for the youth in the city to get involved as well. One important and simple way is to just bend down and pick up trash.

"For over 25 years I have been picking up litter wherever I go," said Dan Oredson, a member of the Exchange Club. "I believe that you leave a place better than you found it, even if it is just shopping at Smith's."

All 26 schools in the city will be given an anti-littering petition and information on how students, Boy and Girl Scout troops and other youth organizations can participate and earn a Sandy Pride Community Service Patch.

Anyone interested in volunteering as an individual or group can contact Angela at 568-7256.

Volunteers Needed for Sandy Pride on May 17

Sandy Pride has been a part of the Sandy community for more than 20 years and is scheduled to take place this year on May 17. This city-wide project has brought together thousands of volunteers working together to make their community an even better place to live. Once again, volunteers are being sought throughout the morning of May 17 to help plant trees, flowers, shrubs and to replace old bark around trees and jungle gyms. Many other projects are taking place throughout the city including general clean-up in open spaces, painting or simple repairs to homes.

Individuals or groups wanting to coordinate any volunteer time can call Angela at 568-7256 or send an e-mail to asnlyder@sandy.utah.gov. Additional information is available online at www.sandy.utah.gov/sandypride.
